

You are invited to

Lean Leaders Power of Seven

a peer learning group for those leading lean strategy and implementation

This group is for you if your business is experiencing these and similar challenges*

- We cannot get the buy-in and engagement of our senior and middle managers.
- We cannot engage the shop floor.
- We have been working with Lean/Lean Six Sigma for a few years and have got stuck or it has failed.

* top three issues facing the SA Partners 80,000 LinkedIn lean community in a recent survey. More on these issues here.

How Does It Work?

You meet with six other senior level lean leaders from other companies every two months. Other leaders who are facing similar challenges to you. In this highly confidential environment with expert facilitation you earn the trust and respect of each other through sharing and helping to solve each others problems.

'Essentially the Power of Seven is your personal board of confidants and advisors to support you on your lean leadership journey'.

How Can This Help You?

Members exchange their expertise, experience, problem solving capability and solutions that have worked for them in similar situations. Most of all they offer objectivity on the challenges you are facing, helping you to clear the 'wood from the trees'. Your peers and the facilitator give you feedback, help you brainstorm new possibilities, and set up accountability structures that keep you focused and on track. It's a community of supportive colleagues who brainstorm together to move everyone to new heights and advance each others careers.

SA Partners

In addition to peer support you will have access to the latest academic research and thinking around continuous improvement (CI) within organisations from the SA Partners team led by John Quirke (Partner and MD, Ireland) and other other SA Partners guest speakers. The team at SA Partners is made up of hands on CI practitioners and academic researchers who work at all organisational levels. They have a wide depth of experience from practical hands on application of CI tools and techniques, to the development and implementation of enabling systems to support the necessary culture and behaviours to embed CI as a 'way of working'. Our team has also worked with many companies to develop focused business strategies to enable growth. There will also be an opportunity to hear case studies from these SA Partners clients.

Facilitation

Barry Walsh is a very experienced facilitator of peer groups having developed the Power of Seven concept over eight years ago. Whilst his background is in lean he also is expert in leadership and culture development.

What's Different?

This is not a training course, it's a professional development forum where you learn and gain insights from your peers and Lean/CI experts. The facilitation and structure allows members quality 'air time' to share their critical issues and get feedback/advice from peers in similar situations whom they respect and learn from. It is totally confidential.

Invitation

A Lean Leaders group has already started with a number of successful meetings underway. We have a vacancy for an additional member. You have been specifically invited to this group as we believe you and the group will mutually benefit. Our next meeting is on April 23rd 2015 at Klasmann-Deilmann Near Mullingar.

Email your expression of interest to discuss further to barry.walsh@sapartners.com ASAP.
More about the Power of Seven at www.Po7.ie